DOES IT MEAN CORRUPTION—HAVE WE TWO MEMBERS?

Last week we paid a visit to Harrisburg. The fact is we were subpœnied as a witness. We were industrious while there and made the acquaintance of quite a number of good and great men. We made the acquaintance of several members of the State Senate, and of the Assembly or lower house. There was a large number of the members of both houses with whom we had not the pleasure of an introduction and there was another portion of the members of both houses with whom we would not seek an introduction. In looking in upon what is generally supposed to be the assembled wisdom of the State, we were compelled to exclaim, how in the name of all that is good and wise and patriotic did some of these men get here? They have nothing in their manner or appearance which is attractive. They have small foreheads, sharp chins, little eyes and peeked noses. Some of them have no hair on their heads and not much head for the hair to grow—"on the place where the wool ought to grow."

Nearly every member is chairman of some important committee. This was a stunner to us, for we could not understand how, in a Republican legislature, Democrats, who are notoriously corrupt could succeed in getting themselves appointed upon these committees. We concluded that it was for want of nerve—backbone—on the part of the Republicans. For the same reason they are now spending their time on the Gray-McClure contested election case.

One member is chairman of the Committee on Banks; another is chairman on Railroads, corporations, &c., another is chairman on Diplomas, and so on to the end of the chapter. We have not space to name them all; but the common business of the hangers on and lobbiests, is to hang on to these chairmen of committees. We heard one man exclaim, oh! God! how I would like to be chairman of that Bank Committee. Another said, oh! if I were chairman of the Committee on Diplomas, would'nt I make the Colleges of Philadelphia come down handsomely. From these facts ws were led to believe that Harrisburg is a notoriously corrupt place, and that it would not be helped much by the admission of Aleck McClure the "great reformer," to a seat in the Senate.

Another thing that struck us with peculiar force was the fact that we could not tell for the life of us whether Miles Kephart, James Burns, or P. G. Meek was the member from Centre. We were, under the circumstances, compelled to ask ourself the question, have the people of Centre one, two, or three members? Is Meek the tool of these men, or are these men Meek's tools? We think if the Republican Senators must die, thus giving control to the Democrats, that the welfare of the State and the tax-payers thereof demand a speedy adjournment.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE LEGISLATURE.—The State Journal thinks it is doubtful whether the Legislature will be able to adjourn at the time fixed. It says: "Death intervened before and after the organization of the senate, to obstruct the transaction of business, and now the same body has before it an irritating and complicated contest for a seat, on the result of which depends the working harmony of both branches. No public bills of any importance have yet been disposed of—while the accumulation of private business assumes the most frightful proportions. We cannot see, in view of these facts, and with the brief time left for work, how it is possible to get through at the period fixed for adjournment."

A FIRE broke out last Thursday morning in the shoe shop belonging to W. Fisher, near the Cleveland & Mahoning depot, on Shenango street, Sharon, and burned it completely down, together with a dwelling house adjoining, belonging to the Westerman Iron Company.

DOUGLASS will be here without fail, on March 5th.

TARIFF AND FREE TRADE.

We are indebted to the publishers of the American Working People, Pittsburgh, Pa, for the cartoon here given. This publication is becoming a power in the land for the protection of American industries, and no workman should fail to subscribe for it:

"The accompanying farm scene is reality. It shows what we were and what we are; what we are and what we may become. It is truth itself, and the tens of thousands of farmers know it. The manufacturers and workingmen know it. Three times this nation has been tossed into bankruptcy and poverty colapsed, merchants were penniless, workingmen were idle and people starved.

And yet the country was overflowing with British free trade goods, tantalizing the hungry eyes of penniless men. Mills, factories, workshops, were everywhere closed. Farmers were everywhere in poverty; farms, mills, shops, goods, stocks were everywhere sold for taxes and executions.

The country tottered on the very verge of national bankruptcy. The people saw once more their error, and prayed that if saved from this evil they would never fall down in the desert and wife and children stay—not live, is a hovel around the unprotected door of which hogs, children and chickens meet. The fences are broken down and the bridge in the distance is in ruins. The mill, once the scene of busy industry, is idle and in ruins. The farmer raises a little Indian corn. Flap jacks and pork is his diet. There is no enterprise or business activity. He has no incentive to exertion. There are none to buy from him. The working people are out of employment and have no money. He must send his produce to Europe, but it is not needed there, for the pauper labor of Europe can raise employment and have no means to buy.

These men in woolen mills and iron mills must be fed. They eat corn and wheat and beef and pork. Farmers must bring more ground under cultivation for every new mechanic that finds employment in a mill or shop. It is to the farmer's interest to have manufacturing increase. The more manufacturers and working people, the greater demand is there for his corn and wheat and pork. If there were no manufacturies or iron works in this country, he could sell nothing. Each man would raise his own. But give us a workingman while English capitalists stood and looked on, and laughed at us, and rattled our hard earned American gold in their well filled pockets. And while they stood chuckling at our short-sightedness, American workingmen were idle and starving, and American farmers were reduced to poverty.

TARIFF—Market at Your Door. FREE TRADE—Market Across the Ocean.

[DESIGNED AND ENGRAVED FOR THE AMERICAN WORKING PEOPLE.]

Three times in our national history we have been led by the nose by English sophistry into national poverty. In 1816-18 we were so far reduced that General Jackson exclaimed, 'Where has the American farmer a market for his surplus products? Except for cotton, he has neither a foreign nor a home market. Common sense points out a remedy. Draw from agriculture the superabundant labor, employ it in mechanism and manufacturers, thereby creating a home market for your breadstuffs, and you at once give a home market for more breadstuffs than all Europe now furnishes. We have been too long subject to the policy of British merchants. It is time we should become a little more Americanized, and instead of feeding the paupers and laborers of Europe, feed our own, or else in a short time, by continuing our present policy, we shall be paupers ourselves." So thought and spoke General Jackson.

The people demanded protection and got it, but in a few years smooth tongued politicians and well fed English agents poured into the American ear oil while she slept in her prosperous security—the deathly oil of free trade—which, so rapidly through the veins and arteries of its body did it course, that in 1837 banks worship the golden calf of British free-trade. They recovered, and grew in wealth, but they again forgot of their poverty, and in 1846 we again entered the fatal maelstrom of free trade. Sweetly on we glided for a few years on the outer edge of the seductive current, scarcely noticing the under current that was drawing us by degrees rapidly onward.

In 1851 we began to feel ourselves going, but the gold storm of California held us in check for awhile, but even it was not strong enough, and we rapidly swept on, and in, and down, until the dreary days of 1856-57, when soup houses filled the land instead of mills and factories; when crest fallen workingmen with brawny arms were compelled to eat this humble bread of charity and degredation. The single vote of a body of men called Congress brought us to this poverty in each instance.

In the picture before us we see the effects of free trade with a market across the ocean. An oddly matched couple of faded and dispirited brutes who evidently think they have enough to do to stand up on their legs, are urged on by a ragged and more dispirited farmer to drag a plow. One is a broken down stage horse which years ago before railroads became the medium of travel and exchange, were sold to farmers for five or ten dollars per head to drag out their miserable existence. His companion is a mule of equally questionable antecedents, and looks to be a fit candidate for the highest honors of the boneyard.

The cabin where the farmer and his corn and wheat cheaper than he.

He cannot build a fine house, nor buy the cheap English goods because he can earn no money, and in the very midst of cheapness he is in rags and poverty Farmers of America are not these facts, workingmen of America are not these facts? We appeal to the days of 1856 and 1857 for proof.

But let us close our eyes from this dismal picture and look on the opposite one. For aught we can tell it is the same man we see and the same place that is before us. We see a sight to be seen on ten thousand of farms throughout the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Michigan and other States. There is a joyous farmer and proud horses who look and step as though they knew that a plentiful feed of oats awaited them at evening. There is a moving train in the distance carrying the products of agricultural and mechanical industry. There is a woolen mill with its five hundred pairs of busy hands, an iron mill beyond it with its two thousand men before hot furnaces and thundering rolls. These mills are the types of American civilization and American independence. They speak tariff and a market at our own door.

The two thousand hands provide support for at least ten thousand people. The iron made goes over the country and provides employment for the support of at least a hundred thousand people. Cut down an iron mill, and all those who obtain employment out of it directly and indirectly, are deprived of and we must have a farmer to keep him in victuals. Notwithstanding this, there are many farmers who believe that they would get richer by having free trade which would destroy manufacturing and the employment of all people engaged in it. They say they could then buy things cheaper from England. How could they? Where would they get money to pay for them? Not from England, because England can get cheaper corn from Europe than we can send her. American working people cannot buy because they are thrown out of work and are out of money and idle. Who will the farmer sell to? To no one. He raises just enough to keep himself, and those who have saved money in better times are taxed to support soup houses to keep the soul and body together of men who would willingly work if they could get it. We would then be doing just as Gen. Jackson said, viz: 'Supporting foreign paupers while making worse paupers of the American working people.'

God forbid that such may ever be the fate of America. But while we read, hundreds of British agents and recreant, soulless, avaricious Americans are fighting night and day, disseminating tracts and spreading doctrines and buying up papers for the dissemination of principles designed to overturn the system of protection to American industries. They are dealing out quietly their sugar coated poison, and winning adherents who believe that a free trade law will bring them cheapness and plenty. No greater delusion exists. It will bring as it has brought, poverty, starvation and misery.

—It is now believed, says the Press of the 17th inst., that there will be an adjustment in the McClure-Gray contest at Harrisburg. Yesterday the Senate adopted by a viva-voce vote a resolution insisting upon its non-concurrence in the House amendments and appointing a committee of conference, who are to prepare a bill governing the case Among its provisions is one denying the right of Mr. Gray to vote and another that the six highest in vote shall be members of the committee to try the case itself.

THOS. A. SCOTT is reported to receive $150,000 a year as the sum of his united salaries from the railroads which centre in him.

THE Evans investigation is in progress with every possibility that the facts in the case will be thoroughly sifted.—So far the result is bad for Evans and his compeers. The gentlemen comprising the investigating committee may be relied on to sift all phases of the affair, and give a clear and unbiased report.

THE Beaver Argus says: We learn that Wilson Freed, of Pulaski township, has lost four of his children, all girls, with diptheria—aged respectively twelve, seven and five years and four months. Three of them were corpses at one time and buried in one grave. This leaves him with but two boys.

RECENTLY, Elias Snyder, of Bedminster, Bucks county, a marble cutter, finished an inscription on a tomb-stone, and placed the stone against the wall with a corncob under one end to keep it straight. His little child entered the shop soon after, pulled out the cob, when the stone, weighing 600 pounds, fell on the little creature and crushed it to death.

MR. SETH HOAGLAND, of Mercer county, has been awarded the $50 prize goblet offered by the State Agricultural Society for the best essay on the Honey Bee. There were a number of able competitors, and the result is a high compliment to Mr. Hoagland.

—The Clarion Republican county committee, on the 7th instant, recommended Theodore S. Wilson for delegate to the national convention, and Joseph Patrick, representative delegate to the State convention, instructed for Hon. Harry White for Governor, and Judge I. G. Gordon, of Jefferson county, for the supreme judgeship.

THE Tyrone mines, near Dawson Station, are doing a large business. They are now running 108 ovens with a force of one hundred men, and last month turned out 150,000 bushels of coke. They have also built ten good dwelling houses, and a number of out-buildings, within the space of a year.

STATE NEWS.

—The military spirit is active in Juniata county.

—An immense railroad round house is to be erected at Towanda this summer.

—A gas and water company with $30,000 stock has been started in Greenville.

—Greenville is having its firt annual course of lectures. It has a Farmers Club.

—Mr. Henry Smith an esteemed citizen of Fayette county, died last Thursday in his 81st year.

—James E. Murdock is to read from Shakspeare and later authors in Washington on the 27th inst.

—On the 5th inst., the Beaver Falls public schools were opened in their handsome new school house.

—The delegate from Clinton county has been instructed to support Col. Frank Jordan for Governor.

—William Bruce, one of the pioneer settlers of Bradford county, died there on the 10th inst., aged eighty-two years.

—The Brighton paper mills are running day and night They will have to be enlarged to meet all the demands upon them.

—We notice a great number of ladies are being appointed post mistresses in Pennsylvania. The fact speaks well for Republican gallantry.

—Mr. Andrew J. Stahl, of Cook township, Westmoreland county, fell dead in his blacksmith shop on the 31st ult. Apoplexy was the cause.

—The Shenango and Allegheny railroad is in full operation to Pardoe, twenty-one miles from the junction with the Erie and Pittsburg Railroad.

—Dr. James E. Jackson, of Fallston, Beaver county, had a narrow escape from death by erysipelas recently, but is now thought to be recovering.

—The stove concerns of Erie are doing a large business, maintaining the reputation of the place as one of the leading stove towns in the country.

—The special election to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Evans, has given rise to a difficulty as to which county is entitled to the nominee.

—The Mahanoy Gazette of the 3rd inst., announces that the small pox in that place is on the decrease. The churches and public schools have re-opened.

—There is scarcely a Republican paper outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, throughout the whole State that does not rejoice at the defeat of Alex. McClure.

—The Lewistown Gazette chronicles the advent of the first shad flies of the season, at that town, on the 5th inst. Commissioner Worral will please make a note of this.

—A narrow gauge locomotive was shipped from a Pittsburgh shop a few days ago, for the American Coal Company, Lonaconing, Md., to take the place of mule power.

—A white thief stole Fred. Douglass' fifteen dollar seal-skin cap while he was lecturing at Sharon last week. The thief was traced and the cap recovered and sent after the distinguished orator.

—The Sharpsville Advertiser says: We learn that Messrs. Kimberly, Carnes & Co., of Sharon, have purchased the Ætna Furnaces at New Castle. The small sum paid is reported to be $140,000.

—Petroleum moves slowly in our markets. Provisions of all descriptions are held with firmness. Whisky is very dull. Wheat—offering light. Flour dull and Groceries steady.—Philadelphia Press.

—Two more trains wrecked—this time on the Connellsville Railroad, near Pittsburg. Four cars containing live stock were totally demolished, and several of the animals killed. Another telescoping the cause.

—One of the heaviest verdicts returned by a jury for some time is that of the 16th inst., at Meadville, this State, in the case of Bonsall Brothers, of Philadelphia, against the Venango Central and Duck Creek Oil Company. The decision against the latter is for $73,000.

—The Erie Paper Company's buildings are nearly ready for occupancy and use. They are 40 by 140 feet, with a wing 40 by 100. The process is a new one, hemlock timber the material. Machinery was made purposely for this process. The capacity of the mill is to be large.

—Anderson & Sons, printers, Pittsburgh, have put in their press room a chromatic press, which prints three colors at one impression, in a most perfect manner. The machine is one which will come into general use among printers very soon.

KU-KLUX "RESPECIABILITY."

The story of recent atrocities perpetrated by the Ku-Klux Klan must strike any reader with unmitigated horror. At the trials held in Columbia, S. C., the evidence brought to light various details which fill up the measure of the iniquity of that body and even increases the loathing and detestation with which every honest and humane man must regrad it. If the series of rapes, murders, cruelties, indecencies and other atrocities has been executed by me with no pretention to good family and respectability, the case would still have been bad enough. How infinitely worse is it when, according to the testimony produced before Messrs. Stanbery and Johnson, these outrages were performed under the sanction of men of more than average intelligence, held in esteem by people assuming to be respectable! That testimony showed that one of these men was a fair specimen of the average planter of the upcountry of South Carolina, a man of good standing and fair reputation.—Another instigator of the infernal enormities which have been lately perpetrated, was a physician, belonging to a good family and much respected in his professional practice. The first count of the indictment charged these men merely with a general conspiracy to prevent, by violence and other unlawful means, colored citizens, from exercising the right of suffrage. The second count charged them with making a raid upon Charles Leach, a colored man, and with whipping him, both for voting the Radical ticket in 1870, and to prevent him from voting the same ticket in future. The testimony against these two "respectable" men—the one a representive planter, the other a representative physician, and both held in general esteem in the community—was so disgusting and appalling that Messrs. Stanberry and Johnson left the court-room, apparantly unable to master their feelings. The testimony of a Mr. Davis also (who seems to have been prevailed upon to join the Ku Klux under misrepresentation of its real character) is damning to the character of the association. At the first meeting after his initiation he was appointed the scribe of the society, and came into possession of its constitution, by-law and other papers, whence he derived information of a nature to horrify and sicken him. From Mr. Davis' testimony it appears that Charles Good, a quiet, inoffensive, hard working negro blacksmith, was first whipped and afterward tied to a sapling and shot dead for having intimated that he knew some of the men who had whipped him.—Subsequently the Chief of the Klan in that neighborhood assembled all the association, to the end that all might become privy in the murder, and in their presence the body of the murdered negro was thrown into the river and fastened to the bottom with stakes. A fate equally shocking, in different way, awaited the wife of Samuel Simrall, whose husband was absent at the time the Ku Klux came to her house. This wretched victim was first fiendishly whipped and then as fiendishly ravished by four white brutes, her eyes and mouth being subsequently filled with sand, and she left senseless. Jane Boheler, a white woman, suspected of concealing colored men from the Ku-Klux, was stripped naked by some members of the association, coated with tar and ordered to leave the country within three days on penalty of death.

To these acts the two "respectable gentlemen" referred to above were proved to have been a party. The evidence against them was overwhelming, and the jury brought in a verdict of guilty. Will it be believed, that in spite of all the atrocities proved in these cases the only offense for which the parties could be tried, was that of conspiracy to prevent colored citizens from voting punishable, at most, with not more than ten years imprisonment and five thousand dollars fine?

To the infamy and fiendishness of these outrages we have heard nothing comparable, excepting the history of the Spanish outrages upon Cubans during the last two years. That these crimes against nature and humanity should have been perpetrated by ignorant and blood-thirsty villains, without education, without family, without standing, without a knowledge or appreciation of any of the amenities of civilized life, was comprehensible; that they should be the acts of intelligent men, respected by the community among which they held fair positions, was not to be believed save upon the revolting and irrefragable testimony to which we have referred.—New York Standard.

THE LABOR QUESTION IN ENGLAND.

The labor question in England is unsatisfactory. Concessions to the demands of the workmen are not as yet attended with that increased efficiency of labor or steadiness of trade which it was hoped would be produced.

Increased wages means, in many cases less work and no amelioration of the condition of the working people, the ostensible purpose of the agitation.

The deliberations of organizations in the interests of workingmen fail to show that a right conception of the labor problem prevails.

This agitation has led to an extended organization among the employers of labor in the engineering trades, to defend themselves against the increasing exactions. The labor agitation will be attended with another result, viz: The perfecting of more expeditious and economic labor saving machinery. This is capital's best defense and strongest weapon to protect itself.

But it is, perhaps, too soon to expect that men who have so long been taught to believe there was no amelioration of their condition to begin immediately to save their earnings to improve their social position; to get better houses; to educate their children properly, and to wear better clothes. These aspirations will arise slowly. Capitalists cannot justify a refusal to concede higher wages because they are now wasted in self indulgencs.

The iron workers of England have been in a state of slavery because they have not seen their way to rise in the social scale. As England dealt in slaves and encouraged slavery for the sake of pelf, so during the past half century, since African slavery became odious, she changed it and made slaves of her iron workers by shutting off their chances of social elevation.

With their white slaves they made cheap iron, and the question they now find it so difficult to answer, is how to continue making cheap iron with high priced labor.—Pittsburg Iron World.

THE BOROUGH ELECTION.

Never since the organization of the Republican party, have we gained so full and so complete a victory as that achieved on Friday last. The result is so triumphant, so glorious that we cannot refrain from bringing out and running up our coon.

The Democrats worked as they never worked before. They had, as we noticed last week, circulated a mean, libelous and contemptuous petition. It was full of falshood, and the editor of the Watchman knew it. That paper felt and knew that it was endeavoring to deceive the people. It contained last week some fifteen distinct appeals to the Democrats to turn out to the election and defeat the radicals. But the people did not obey. In referring to the petition which we exposed last week the Watchman says

"The Editor of the REPUBLICAN refused to sign the remonstrance against "the Bellefonts $50,000 loan scheme. "Of course, belonging to the party that "he belongs to, he could not be expected to act with the people."

We have a thousand times charged the Watchman with willful and deliberate falsehood. The above quotation is only another powerful proof of our oft repeated assertions.

We are with the people and the people know it. We exposed that "remonstrance" libel and the people on last Friday, sustained us fully, freely, nobly, faithfully. We were not at home. We did not vote. Yet the people, the working men, mechanics and capitalists of Bellefonte, all united on Friday last, to give the lie to the Watchman, and at the same time sustain the great, patriotic and glorious Republican party.

Look at the vote of the Borough, as we give it below. See how we whalloped them in the North and West Wards. Poor miserable creatures, they got nothing. Now turn your eyes to the South Ward. Behold the result—the triumphant and over whelming victory. This ward is conceded to be Democratic by from 18 to 25, nevertheless, our friend and fellow citizen B. V. Black, carried it for town council, by a majority of 20 votes, beating the ablest and most popular man the Democrats have in that Ward. Levi A. Miller—the untiring, indomitable Levi, carried the Ward by a majority of 22. Workingmen of Centre county, look out for Levi A. Miller. He is coming. He is one of your own number. Good, faithful and true.

But why blow so much? Let us set the rooster on his head. Let us turn him up for he is a very sick Democratic chicken. Look at him.

Fit emblem of the Democratic party. The whole party is sick. It is standing on its head. It cannot jump from under it. It is dead. It only awaits a decent funeral. This we will give it next fall, with Gen. Grant, as the head of our Presidential ticket.

We have said enough. Look at the vote of our Borough, and then ask yourself the question is "Bill Brown," W. W. Brown, L. L. D., with the people, or are the people with him? Glory enough for one day. "Watchman tell us of the night?" Where is that petition?

—There are burglars in Mercer, bloody minded ones too. If we may judge anything from the fact they broke into a hardware store there last week and and stole seven revolvers and twenty boxes of cartridges.

We noticed in one of our exchanges this week the statement of Dea. John Hodgkins, of South Jefferson, Me., whose son was cured of incipient consumption by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We refer to this at this time as tending to corroborate the statement we made last week in relation to this Liniment as applied to consumption.

IF Congress had employed as much scientific skill in the arrangement of its "Reconstruction Policy" at the close, as the War Department did in the beginning of the war, in arranging for the manufacture of what was called Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders for the use of the Cavalry horses, no doubt the Union would have been restored long ago.—Excange.

—Last Friday night week three of Robert Miligan's children, in Madison township, Perry county, died in the brief period of fifteen minutes, of scarlet fever. The youngest was about three years old and the oldest twelve.—Selinsgrove Times.

THE WEEK,
A RESUME OF CURRENT OPINION, HOME AND FOREIGN.

THE WEEK fills a place unoccupied hitherto in American journalism, though its importance has long ago been demonstrated in England. From week to week it presents the cream of home and foreign journalism, and gathers from the leading papers of America and England, and of all sections and parties, the most important utterances on current questions of Politics, Society, Religion, Literature, Science, Art, Music, the Drama, and all other topics likely to interest the reader. In addition to the longer articles, which themselves cover every variety of subject, there is Literary Gossip, Science and Art Gossip, Musical and Dramatic Gossip, and General Notes and News, giving the freshest and most copious intelligence in all these departments In no other paper can be found so large and so various an amount of instructive and entertaning reading matter.
The first No. of The Week was published on December 2d of last year, and in the short space of two months has achieved a most decided and flattering success. No paper has ever received more cordial words from the press and the critics, and it is the general testimony that The Week has met an important and well-defined want in the journalism of America.

Read what the Press says.
THE WEEK is the title of a new paper which bids fair to fill a void in New York journalism. It is filled with a selection of the more noticeable articles of the various daily papers—not editorial merely, but extracts also from news and correspondence. Thus at a glance the busy man who has had no leisure to see more than one, if any, daily paper during the week, gets the cream of the entire newspaper literature—not the metropolitan only, but of other cities, and to some extent of foreign capitals also.—Brooklyn Eagle.
THE WEEK is a new paper which ought to take a permanent place in American journalism. Possessed of it the reader will find that he can dispense with most other journals and still keep abreast of the most enlightened current opinion on Politics, Society, Religion, Art, Music, and the Drama, and the like.—Springfield Republican.
THE WEEK is the title of a new paper whose idea we like. The selections are well made, and we hope THE WEEK will find abundant patronage.—Independent.
Its success ought not to be a matter of doubt.—Chicago Journal.

THE WEEK is a 16 page paper of large size, with three broad columns to the page, and is neatly and tastefully printed.
TERMS—$3 a year; single copy 8 cents. Trial subscription, 4 consecutive numbers for 25 cents.
Address "THE WEEK."

Spring Chickens.

Very early spring chickens are generally dear, and pay extraordinary well for raising, and they are much easier brought through the cold weather of the latter part of February and the following month than people suppose, and as practical knowledge is worth much more than aught else, what I am going to say can be done, and has been done by the writer and his better half. Having little birds, rather larger than pigeons, sell for 75 cents each in April and May, giving a dollar per couple clear profit, is making money fast enough to satisfy reasonable people. The way to do it is to have the hens all comfortably lodged in a warm roost by the 1st of January.

Have some nice, snug warmly situated nests in a place near the roost for the hens to lay in, and contrive that they can go to and from without going into the bad weather, and if they have been well fed they will be laying when the new year begins, and if Brahma blood is in them (half will do) they will sit by the end of the month; after hatching, put them in coops which can be closed and made dark by fastening up a front board—then in bad weather the chickens can be fed by letting down the board, and be shut up again as soon as they have eaten, which will cause the hen to sit still and nurse them till they are fed again; have no bottoms to the coops and move every day, putting dry fine straw or any kind of littre under the coop when the ground is wet, but in moderate weather or whenever dry let them be on the sod. Keep the hen confined till the chickens are a month old, unless unusually mild, and let these coops be on a slope facing the south, and away from the haunts of the old fowls. There are many days in February when the chickens will run around the coop picking up blades of grass, &c., enjoying the sunshine, which puts them in strong health and clear confinement in cold spells and during snow storms, which, with these coops, do not hurt them at all; and there will be no drooping wings and no crying, as there invariably is when little chickens are raised in glass hot houses or in any kind of houses or barns; for in any of these places they miss the fresh ground to be daily moved on, and the fresh air and sunshine which gives them an appetite out-o: doors, however spacious the apartments may be. I have had to dig the snow away from the coops several times in one season, and brush places for them to be placed on, which is quickly done by having a spare coop and going from one to the other with a basket; and by 10 or 11 o'clock the whole of the broods from 30 to 40 coops would be seen as brisk as bees, a dozen or more at each coop, and racing to meet the feeder.

The feed requires variation and should be given every two or three hours—say one day scalded meal at 7 wheat or barley at 9—cracked corn at 12—liver or other meat chopped fine, at 2—and bread sopped in milk with oats or any dry grain, at 4, and then shut them up. Next day, egg shells broken fine mixed with the morning's first meal, and give one feed of some kind of sprouted grain in about such a stage as malt is made, and very this feeding as convenient, and as the chickens seem to prefer one form to another; for generally what they like best is best for them, as nature seldom gives desire for that which is not good and in case of anything being too rich, it will cloy them till the system requires more.—Country Gentleman.

Charcoal for Sick Cattle.

Nearly all animals become sick from improper eating. In nine cases out of ten, the digestion is wrong. Charcoal is the most efficient and rapid corrective. It will cure in a majority of cases, if properly administered. An example of its use: "The hired man came in with the intelligence that one of the finest cows was very sick, and a kind neighbor proposed the usual drugs and poisons. The owner being ill and unable to examine the cow concluded that the trouble came from overeating, and ordered a teacup of pulverized charcoal given in water. It was mixed, placed in a junk bottle, the head held upwards and the water with the charcoal, poured downwards. In five minutes an improvement was visible, and in a few hours the animal was in pasture quietly eating grass. Another instance of equal success occurred with a young heifer, which became badly bloated by eating green apples after a hard wind. The bloat was so severe that her sides were almost as hard as a barrel. The old remedy, salaratus, was tried for the purpose of correcting the acidity. But the attempt to put it down always caused coughing, and it did but little good. Half a teacupful of fresh powdered charcoal was next given. In six hours all the appearance of bloat had gone, and the heifer was well.

A Farmer's Tariff.

Says the N. Y. Tribune: "Our Tariff is eminently a Farmer's Tariff At the recent joint meeting at Syracuse of the Wool growers and Wool manufacturers, a Massachusetts cloth-maker said that if the existing moderate duties were left undisturbed for the short space of six years, the cost of producing American cloths would be so reduced by the stimulus which Wool growing would receive, that they could not be undersold by the pauperwoven cloths of Europe. Six years is a very short time to wait for equal Free Trade in Woolens. Can't the British importers be patient for that brief space? England has made the world wait over five hundred years for her profession of Free Trade, and conceded it at last only in the products in which she was an over-match for the world. Be patient, foreigners. Just leave the American Tariff alone for ten years, and England and the rest of manufacturing Europe will get all the Free Trade out of us they want and a great deal more."

LICE have never yet troubled any of our cows, horses, or pigs. Liberal feeding, carding, and clean stables and pens, are the best preventives. For a cure we should resort, first, to cleansing the premises, and sprinkling crude carbolic acid in every nook and corner. Then mix an ounce of carbolic acid with a quart of crude petroleum, and rub it over the animal. It will kill every insect that it touches and will not hurt the animal unless applied in excessive quantity. Care should be taken to mix the acid with the oil by thorough shaking. Should it not be well mixed the carbolic acid would blister the skin and injure the animal. In such a case apply warm water freely or rub on oil, or grease of any kind. If crude petroleum can not be obtained use carbolic acid and water, an ounce of the acid and water. Tobacco water will destroy the lice, but the above remedies are less trouble and more effective.

SALT FOR CATTLE.—Speaking of the importance of regularly salting cattle, the Canada Farmer, among other remarks, makes the following: "We have lately observed many head of stock drooping, rough in the skin and apparently suffering from loss of appetite. We had thought that it was entirely owing to the constant irritation from flies and the long continued dry weather. Upon questioning the owners, however, we generally find that periodical salting has been neglected, while our own cattle, which have received their regular weekly allowance of salt, appear sleek and healthy."

ONIONS.—Many complain that onions do not keep; the trouble is in keeping them too warm. The onion is bulb, a plant at rest, and the least warmth starts it into activity. It is much better that onions should remain frozen through the winter, provided they can thaw gradually, than to put them into a cellar or other warm place where their vegetable powers will be aroused. If put in large heaps, onions will be sure to spoil; but if spread in thin layers and covered with hay or straw, so that if frozen, the thawing will be gradual, they will keep well through the winter.

A BOY baby was solemnly christened Mary Reilly, by mistake in New York the other day. The Legislature will be invoked to restore him to his sex.

To Nervous People,
To Children Wasting Away,
To any with debilitated digestive Organs

Or suffering with any of the following Symptoms, which indicate Disordered Stomach or Liver.

such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and difficult breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or, as medicinally termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons or ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, when they compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circustances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic.

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1,50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

Who would ask for more Dignified or Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania at present Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1871.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in case of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAS. THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my own experience of it.
Yours, with respect, JAS. THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.
GEORGE SHARSWOOD

HON. JAS. M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so weak, as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. TWO PILLS A DOSE.
The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent Vegetable Cathartic Known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it specially from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain a hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLANDS GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

Medical.

Aver's Cathartic Pills.
For all the the Purpose of a Laxative medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill.—The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them: those who have not, knows that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterous drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions from the stomach' bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or GREEN SICKNESS, BILLIOUS COLIC and BILLIOUS FEVERS, they should be judiciously taken for each case to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back or Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two PILLS to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

that time I lost all trace of you, as no doubt you did of me."

"I received that letter," said her father "and from that time until to-night, I have never heard a word from you. And now, it was by the merest chance that I found you. After my arrival in Europe, I wrote to you often, directing my letters to the place where I supposed you lived, but receiving no answer, I finally wrote to the post-master, and from him I learned that you had emigrated to the West. But to what part of the country he was unable to inform me. I did not worry about you, for I knew that aside from what I had given you, your husband was in prosperous circumstances. And it is a mystery to me, how you have become reduced to such depths of poverty."

It was apparent that Mrs. Waite's strength was failing slowly, but surely, and at her request the wine was given to her more frequently.

"I remained in Europe eight years," resumed her father, and becoming satiated with travel and sight-seeing, I felt a desire to return to my native land. I sailed from Liverpool, and arrived in this country, something more than a year ago. After going home to see how affairs had progressed in my absence, and spending a few weeks there—I formed the resolution to institute a search for you. And I determined to search the western country wherever it was inhabited, until I found you. I took the stage yesterday at Big Creek, for a place fifteen or twenty miles beyond this having learned from a traveling companion, that there was a family residing there by the name of Waite. But Providence has directed my steps, and I fear I am not sufficiently thankful. And now Mabel, could you rally from this sickness, there would be many bright days in store for you yet. Don't your physician give you som encouragement?"

"I have had no physician, father; we were too poor to employ one."

"No physician, Mabel! I will send for one immediately. Mrs. Smith, will"—

"Not so, father," interupted Mrs. Waite "it is too late. Even now the chill of death is upon me. But I have a request to make, dear father."

"Anything that I can do for you, my darling child, shall be done," said her father, "your wishes will be a sacred legacy to me, and shall be fulfilled to the letter." And big tears coursed silently down his bearded cheek, and stifled sobs that he dared not give utterance to, welled up and nearly suffocated him.

"Father, I entrust my darling child, my little Mary, to your care. My Maker before whom I shall soon appear, only knows how thankful I am for this privilege. She is a sensitive, delicate plant, and like a little tender vine she has entwined herself into the very fibres of my being. And this blow will fall upon her with crushing power. She has even been timid and shrinking, for an odium is attached to her, for another's fault. But in the sunshine of your love and affection, she will become strong. I once loved my husband—but God forgive me if I have done wrong—I have outlived it. The cruelty and sufferings that I have endured for years, have finished their work. My life has been a sacrifice—a holocaust to the Demon of Rum. My last request is, dear father, that you will take me to the 'dear old home,' and lay my remains by the side of my mother's. I have not hoped for that boon until to-night. I expected to fill a pauper's grave and I expected that my dear child would be turned adrift, on the cold charities of an unfeeling world."

She ceased speaking, panting for breath. Mrs. Smith now fed her a little broth that had been prepared, and after resting awhile she said, "My time is short, and I have so much I want to say.—Father, you wonder at finding me in such poverty. Tim Watson the proprietor of the Stage House, where my husband is to-night and where he spends most of his time—has got all of our property. He enticed my husband there, under one pretence and another, always treating him to liquor and segars. I trembled for the result, and tried to reason with Simeon, for I foresaw what would be the consequences. But the landlord's persuasions were more potent than mine, and Simeon soon began to visit there of his own accord. Our farm, was neglected, and everything began to run to waste. I cried and entreated, but all to no purpose. In two years Watson foreclosed a mortgage on our farm, which I knew not that he was in possession of until the blow fell. I never signed my name to the document—but it was there—forged by some one. Watson kindly gave us this shelter to live in—and Simeon works for him to pay the rent. I went out to mental service, to keep starvation from me and my children for I had a little son two years younger than Mary. I named him Horace Clifton, but I thanked God when sickness came and took him from me. I rejoiced when his little spirit while still pure, went back to God who gave it. For I saw nothing for his future, but a life of degradation and misery. After my health failed me so that I could work no longer, I was obliged to sell my household goods, one thing after another, and nearly everything of any value is gone. Mrs. Smith, here, has been a dear friend and sister to me. She has many times given me and my child food, when we otherwise would have suffered for the want of it. Her husband is an honest, industrious man, but they have quite a family, and are poor. I recommend them to you, as deserving of anything you can do for them. Raise my head a little, father—put your arms around me—so.—How sweet to die thus."

A greyish pallor had overspread her face, and drops of moisture began to gather on her forehe

"Dear May—I would like to kiss her good bye, but don't waken her. Teach her, dear father, to live for high and noble purposes—and she will grow up to be a good and true woman. And God grant her life may not be blighted, as mine has been. Good bye, Mrs. Smith—God will reward you for all your kindness to me and mine. Dearest father, this is the happiest moment I have known for seven long years,"

She looked up into her father's face with a loving smile, and tried to raise her hand, which he perceiving, bent his head, and she laid it against his cheek He pressed his lips to hers in a last loving kiss, while his feelings were such that it was with the greatest effort he could control them. She calmly, and sweetly, fell asleep—peace and serenity leaving their impress on her features, after they became sealed in the immobility of death. Her father closed her eyes, and then for awhile he gave himself up to the abandonment of grief.

> At rest, dear child, thou 'rt free
> From sin's alloy;
> No more can rum's foul blot,
> Thy peace destroy.

We will pass over the grief of little Mary, when she awoke and found that her mother was indeed gone. Her sorrows were heartrending to witness. The remains of Mrs. Waite were removed as soon as possible to the house of Mrs. Smith, who with her husband did all that lay in their power to assist Mr. Clifton in the preparation for his eastward journey. And Mr. Smith offered to (if he could be of any service) go with him, which offer was gladly accepted.

Simeon Waite died a raving maniac. Delirium tremens set in, soon after John Smith left him lying on the bench in the bar-room .He became so ill that he could not be removed home, so he was laid on a bed in a small room, contiguous to the bar-room. And Mr. Watson had the unwelcome pleasure of listening to the ravings of his victim, for four long days and nights, when death put an end to the scene. Mr. Clifton did not go to see him, but left money with Mrs. Smith, to defray the expenses of his burial, whenever it should be needed. It was a sorrowful heart that Mrs. Smith bade adieu to little Mary, and took her last look of the remains of her friend. When Mr. Clifton clasped her hand at parting, he left in it an ample token of acknowledgment for kindness rendered by her to him and his.

Mr. Clifton arrived home safely with his precious charge, meeting with but slight delays on his journey. Loud were the lamentations and grief of the old housekeeper, Mrs. Jennings, and her husband, Ralph Jennings, when they learned that the remains of their dear young mistress accompanied him. And little Mary, Mrs. Jennings declared, was the living picture of Miss Mabel. And all the love in her large, warm, motherly heart which had once belonged to Mabel, now went out in gushing tenderness to her child, the little orphan, who had been so providentially thrown upon her care. There was an imposing funeral, for the sad news had spread rapidly that Mr. Clifton had arrived home, and had brought with him the remains of his daughter for burial. And for miles around, those who had known and loved Mabel Clifton in her girlhood, came to pay a tribute of respect, and to take a last look of her dear remains. And old-time friends tenderly bearing the casket along the path that led out upon the hillside, gathered around an open grave, close beside another grave, and there they laid her to rest. Mother and daughter, side by side, beneath the shade of the "dear old trees" they had both loved so well. And the wild winds of winter sighing through the leafless branches, as well as the soft, balmy breezes of summer with low whisperings among the shimmering leaves, sing their requiem. And the little brook as in days of yore, still wanders along, and with murmuring voice, joins in the refrain. The plot surrounding the mounds is enclosed with an expensive iron fence, and a costly monument of elaborate workmanship is erected within. And upon these two lone mounds, from early Spring until the frosts of Autumn, flowers planted and nurtured by the hand of affection, bloom in magnificent luxuriance. Methinks 'twould be sweet after the cares and turmoils of earths life are over, to be laid to rest in such a lovely spot.

We may perchance at some future time take up the thread of this truthful narrative, and write out the life history of little Mary.

LAMPS do not talk, they simply shine. A lighthouse sounds no drum, it beats no gong, and yet far over the waters its friendly sparks is seen by the mariner. So should it be with religion, which should by proclaimed and made known bo its quiet works rather than by loud or frequent protestations.

THE best way to get help in this world, is to help yourself.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

We would call the special attention of postmasters and our subscribers to the followinw synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter, (returning a paper does not answer the aw,) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken; and a neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publishers for is payment.

2. Any person who takes a paper faom the post-office, whether directed to his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is reponsible for the payment.

3. If a person orders his paper to be discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders the paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, if he takes it out of the post-office. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima-facie evidence of intentional fraud.

W. H. WILKINSON & Co., of the Bush House, Bellefonte, Penna., are furnishing their new Billiard Room with Phelan & Collonder Standard Tables. They offer for sale cheap, the Billiard Tables now in the Hotel, if applied for soon. Also for sale, a Chickering Piano (been in use but a few months) at a bargain, sold for want of use.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Jno. Powers, one of the best boot and shoe makers in Centre county, who keeps a shoe store opposite the Bush House, has just received a large addition to his stock. He now proposes to sell 25 per cent. cheaper than any other establishment in town. Jno. Powers is a great mechanic and we know that he does all he promises to do.

LIST of Letters remaining in the Bellefonte Post office, and unclaimed, Feb. 12, 1872:

A M Baldwin, Martin Coaul, Mrs. Cath. Calbetzer, John Dare, Miss Jennie Fees, Miss Ellie Housel, S B Hughes, Shos B Johnson, Miss Annie Kanada, Mr J Miller, Miss Mary Miles, Mrs Lydia Powers, Mrs M T Rakestraw, John N Sones, Thos Sanders, George Safford, Iranna Shutt—3, Mrs Margaret Yager.

LOCAL NEWSPAPERS.—A local newspaper is the traveling agent, taking his weekly round to the families of all their customers. No matter whether times are good or dull; no matter whether trade is brisk or otherwise, no business man can afford to take down his sign, nor withdraw the pleasing weekly chat with his customers though the newspapers. For a business man to stop advertising would be equivalent to his saying, "I have stopped business, and ask no more favors of the people."

BALLOU'S MAGAZINE FOR MARCH.—The March number of Ballou's Magazine is issued, and a careful examination of its contents shows us that it is the most useful of all the monthlies for amusing the public. There is such a variety in its contents, that every one can find some article that will please them. Boys will delight in the sea yarns and adventures, ladies in the love stories, gentlemen in the historical tales, and the sentimental in the poetry.

Ballou's Magazine contains 100 pages of reading matter, yet it is sold for only fifteen cents per copy, or $1.50 per year; the cheapest publication in the country. Yet in the face of all this, the publishers give some of the best premiums that were ever offered for clubs of subscribers. Send for a list and see. Thomes & Talbot, publishers, 73 Congress Street, Boston.

SPRING TRADE.—We invite the attention of Merchants to the Card of Messrs. Fenton, Thompson & Co.; No. 617 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, which appears in another part of our paper to-day. This popular old house has hosts of friends in all parts of the Union. Its mode of doing business is acceptable to intelligent buyers everywhere, and the energetic steps which it has this season taken to reach the trade in every Section are at once creditable to its own segacity and the enterprise of Philadelphia. The present immense Stock of Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods, embracing the finer departments of Dress Fabrics, Silks, Shawls, White Goods, Linens, Embroideries, Laces, Etc., which this Firm now offers is certainly not surpassed if it is equalled in the Country.

GONE UP.—We learn from our exchanges that window glass has advanced in price. This will be good for our Bellefonte glass works. It is an estimable company and we wish them well. The exchange says "another advance in soda ash has compelled an advance of 50 cents per box of 1000 feet on all standard sizes of window glass. The manufacturers are hoping that they will soon be able to return to late prices, through a more abundant supply of material at a reduced cost." Bellefonte has the best glass manufactory in the State. It is run by one of the most enterprising companies in the State. Why should it not pay? It will pay. We hope that two or three more glass manufactories will be erected in our town during the coming summer. Let Bellefonte come up. Where are our capitalists? We have room for four thousand, aye ten thousand workmen! Why should this work go to Europe?

FIRE.—About 12 o'clock on Monday night last, as we sat at our table, in our own pleasant home, writing editorial, we heard two or three most terrific squalls of fire, fire, fire. We at once jumped to our feet and ran. Of course we did not know but, that it was the REPUBLICAN office. We have not much faith in some people and that is the only reason, we lost no time in our going. But when we arrived at the corner of Allegheny and Bishop sts., we saw the Undine Fire Company at work, with a full stream on the building belonging to Edward Brown, Esq., and in which is the Tobacco Store of our young friend Samuel Lipton. It was evident that the fire was in the tobacco store, and as we were about the first on the ground, it did not take us long to observe, that the Undine No. 2., was even more vigilent than we. Amos Mullen, James T. Hale, Fred Jarret, indeed we might say, the whole Undine Company was there before us, or about as soon as we were, and were playing with all their power upon the fire. Here we must do Cyrus Strickland, Superintendent of the Water Works the justice to say, that he was at his post, good and faithfull officer as he is, and therefore there was no scarcity of water.

The Undines of course threw the first water and put out the fire; but this to our country readers, we know is all Greek. We have fire plugs in Bellefonte. Half the time they are frozen, that the fire companies, nor any one else can get them open. In our opinion they are not the right kind of fire plugs and for this the Borough authorities are responsible. The Logan Fire Company came in reasonable time; but they could not get a "plug" to work.

We have two companies. They are a great advantage, may we not say, a great blessing to the town, to the property holders, especially? We never realized this fact so fully as on last Monday night. It has been well said that "opposition is the life of trade." We have long understood this to be true; but we never saw it so fully demonstrated as at this fire. The Undines were first. They had a "plug" and by order of their Captain, Amos Mullen, our enterprising butcher, they were doing good work. The fire was under control. The home of Mrs. Sourbeck, the Bakery of H. D. Yeager, the liquor store of A. Baum, the furniture store of Linn & Harris, and the Hotel of Wm. Brown, that was filled with a large quantity of the choiciest liquors, eatables &c., were saved when the Logan Company arrived. When the Logan did arrive we watched their operations. They tried several "plugs," but without effect. They could not gain access to any of them, because old Boreas had been there before them They did there best, The President L. A. Miller, shouted "turn on the water" and Joseph Hawkins was at his post crying out turn the "kinks" out of the hose and let the water come." But the water would not come. We could not refrain from the thought, that if the Logan company was composed of such men as Levi A. Miller, Joe Hawkins, Jas. Cartin and a number more that we might name, Bellefonte would always be safe from fire, and that we would not need two companies. But they are not so composed. Hence the necessity of two companies. Hence the importance of our citizens sustaining both.

On the 23rd inst., Rev. Jas. Mullen, lectures for the benefit of the Logan Fire company. Let there be a full house. It will be good.

On the 5th of March, Fred Douglass, the representative man of his race in America, a self made man, and one of the greatest men in the world, will lecture for the benefit of the Undine Fire company, on "Self Made Men." We hope that everybody will go to hear him.

Citizens of Bellefonte, a word to you. All the above named persons would have been burned out and left homeless, but for the fire companies of our town. If the magnificent building belonging to Edward Brown, had been consumed, it would have cost you double the sum, that it will to sustain a course of Lectures, to support your fire companies.

How many of you knew there was a fire on Monday night? You slept soundly, at ease, at peace, and with a clear conscience, perhaps, because you knew if fire did come, the Undine and Logan, be there to save you. Do you ever think of the sin of ingratitude? If you do will you remember the lecture of Rev. Jas. Mullen on the 23rd inst., and that of Fred Douglass, on the 5th of March next?

Since writing the above we are sorry to learn that Mr. Samuel Lipton, proprietor of the tobacco store, in which the fire originated, has suffered heavily, losing almost his entire stock. We have learned the amount of his insurance is only $2,000. We are also happy to say that the Undines acquitted themselves even better than we have stated.

Edward Brown's insurance on the entire building which cost some $8,000 is $2,300.

GRAND.—Signor Blitz, the original Signor is in town. Last night, he had a full house, to-night and to-morrow night of course the Hall will be filled to over flowing. It is really grand.

Go to Mullen's lecture—Friday night.

THE first Annual Ball of our Colored Silver Cornet Band, at Bush's Hall, on the night of the 13th inst., was rather a gay and brilliant affair, as wall as successful. It afforded quite an interesting entertainment, for many of our young bloods. Our special poet has favored us with the following description of the affair.

We neved did a rhyme indite
Without gettin into a plight,
And out of which we always strove
To git; and have been sometimes drove.

But you know 'tis about the ball
Held tother night in Bush's Hall
By the Colored Band of our town
To write about, that we sat down.

The night was bad and storm clouds low'r
Which hustled down a mighty shower,
And thick'd the night with mighty black
As forty dark cats piled in sack.

The Ball went on despite the dark,
Darks a scratching up to the mark,
On time, they came in happy gronps
As prompt, as well timed Marching troops.

With costumes gay, and smiles all bright
The jolly twains marched left and right.
At nine the fiddle struck its note
When S-bo his D—ah, did tote.

In fond delight over the floor
Gracefully as old Terpsichore,
The scene was gay, and mirth was high
When white folk thought no harm to try.

To join the circle's mazy dance
When Joe H. made the first advance
To maiden dark he said—you know
And she replied, I will for Joe.

And then they together did hitch
You bet; in the hop they did pitch,
Joe of the Watchman ope'd his eyes
And with ghastly look loudly cries.

"Our party, to the deal has gone"
"Under the Rads Equ-all-za-tion!"
"This is what, I did always dread
"That Democrats would sure be led.

"Just as to night, my friend H——sie"
"Into nigger equal-i-ty.
Fureys lament then came to grief
And off he went to seek relief.

Leaving his friend enjoying the night
As his Democratic law, right,
And taste, say, that you always know
How it is yourslef, H —sie Joe.

The Hop, it was a grand success
And gave the dances Joy we guess
Spectators too, didn't go amiss
For Joe, of Watchman there found bliss.

Our colored friends in line of band
Have put in a mighty good hand,
And the music that they do play
Merits our praise as well as pay.

We hope with zeal they'll essay on
Till they command the ready spon,
And make themselves reputation
That ne'er was beat, in the nation.

MUGGINS.

ANY one in want of an Extension Table, will find a good assortment at O'Bryan's.

WHERE TO STOP.—We want to say to those of our readers, who may have business in Harrisburg, that the place to stop and be at home, is the State Capitol Hotel, Wm. G. Thompson, Proprietor. The Hotel keepers in Harrisburg, in consequence of the rush of business, and the hundreds of people, who visit Harrisburg during the session of the Legislature, and who must have some place to stop, are a little, we may say extremely selfish. We have at different visits stopped with several of them at sundry times. We have been accommodated well at times, and frequently received accommodations, of which we could not "brag," and we quit them. It is not best to let a Proprietor of a Hotel think that he owns you; but when one does treat you right, and shows himself a man—a gentleman, a superior caterer to the traveling community, then we think it is our duty as a journalist to chronicle the fact. Such a man is Wm. G. Thompson, Proprietor of the State Capital Hotel. He is a native of Juniata county and we are pleased to State that the citizens of the counties of Perry, Juniata, Mifflin, Huntingdon and of the whole central range of counties make his house their home while stopping in Harrisburg. We even saw the indomitable Gen. James Burns there. The fact is, nearly everybody stops there. The reason is, Mr. Thompson accommodates everybody and has the means to do it. His house is large and well furnished. His table is unsurpassed and unsurpassable. His clerk (we forget his name) is a gentleman in every sense of the word, and his servants male and female, black and white are all faithful and true men and women. In short we want to repeat what we have already stated (and this is not a payed puff for we settled our bill.) Mr. Thompson is a superior Landlord and the State Capital Hotel is the place where all Centre county people should put up when they visit Harrisburg. Try it and be convinced.

THE Bright Side and Family Circle, both lost the names of their subscribers in the great fire, but have now united, and the paper is published monthly at 50 cents a year; edited by C. G. G. Paine. Bright Side and a beautiful $2.00 engraving; for $1.00. Subscribers to either paper should send in their names to the publishers, Bright Side Company Chicago.

THE CHILD'S FRIEND.

A beautiful illustratsd paper, designed especially for Sunday Schools. It takes the place of the Semi-monthly Bright Side, is edited by C. G. G. Paine, and published monthly. Single copies, 25 cents a year; ten copies or more to one address, 12 cents each. The Bright Side and Family Circle and the Child's Friend to one address, 65 cents. Bright Side Company, Chicago, Ill.

VENDUES.—We have printed Posters at the REPUBLICAN office, for the following named public sales. Messrs. Jas. Milliken and J. D. Valentine, Attorneys in fact for M. T. Milliken, dec'd., offer for sale on Friday the 1st of March, at 10 o'clock, on the farm in the occupancy of John Eckenroth, in Spring twp., near Zion, five head of work horses, colts, sheep, hogs and a very large variety of farming untensils....E. B. Heston, offers at public sale in Harris tp., near Boalsburg, on March 12th., five head of work horses, fresh milch cows, and a number of other articles. This will be a large sale.....Geo. Musser, Adm'r., of J. I. Musser, dec'd., 2 miles East of Pine Grove Mills, in Ferguson twp., offers for sale five horses, five cows, young cattle, hogs, and a number of farming implements. Persons wishing bargains should attend. ..Mary B. J. Valentine, Admr'x., of the Estate of Reuben B. Valentine, dec'd., offers for sale on Saturday March 16th, 1872, ten head of work horses, one large seventeen hand Jack, five wagons, hay ladders, &c. This will be a large sale and should be well attended.....C. F. Romick, of Spring twp., offers for sale on March 14th, a large variety of farming implements, horses, hogs, cows.....Christian Shenck & Michael Shenck, Adm'rs., of Emanuel Shenck of Howard twp., dec'd., offer for sale on March the 7th, five head of horses, 11 cows, young cattle, hogs, sheep, and a large amount of farming utensils. Go if you want bargains.

LOGAN.—Rev. Mullen lectures on the 23rd in Reynolds' Hall. Every body should go.

THE CREDIT SYSTEM.—Of all the evils. Says the Harrisburg Telegraph, which exist in the business of this country, there are few greater than those resulting from the practice of buying goods on time. Nothing tends so much to make men put a false estimate upon the condition of their finances as the credit system. A man as he goes along is likely to lose sight of his expenditures, to miscalculate the extent of his outgoes, if he has been so fortunate—or unfortunate—as to find dealers willing to sell him goods and give him weeks or months to make payment. This practice is bad for both buyer and seller, and it has become so prevalent in this country that everybody is suffering from it. Many seem to think if they can buy on trust their purchases cost them nothing, and they go on buying far beyond their ability to pay. Families are led to live above their means, and sooner or later trouble is sure to come. Dealers find it often almost impossible to make collections. What they lose in bad debts, what it costs to make collections, and what disadvantages they suffer in being kept out of their money, compel them to ask for their goods much higher prices than they could afford to sell at if payment were made upon delivery of the goods.

SENATOR EVANS was buried on the 13th inst., at his home in West Chester. A special train was in readiness at Harrisburg to take the Senators to the funeral, but the democrats refused to accede to the usual courtesies on this occasion, making it a party matter. "The Democrats would not let us adjourn to attend the funeral," was the dispatch that Speaker Rutan was obliged to send to West Chester in explanation of their absence. The Democrats are ready to adjourn for the most trifling political reasons, but refuse to do so to pay proper respect to the memory of a colleague if he happens to be a Republican.

For the REPUBLICAN.

The public wishes to be informed whether anybody is to be prosecuted, as J. H. B. run for the office of Assessor, on Friday the 16th day of February 1872, in Spring township, and was defeated He failed in getting within one eighth of the average Democratic votes polled on that day, but was defeated by the Republican party. The question now is, Will the Republican or the Democratic party be prosecuted, or somebody else, and what for? Is it a libel or is it slander? We suggest, somebody ought to be prosecuted, as J. H. B. is a good peaceable citizen.

A CITIZEN OF SPRING TOWNSHIP.

For the REPUBLICAN

BELLEFONTE, Feb. 15, 1872.

THANKS.—Brassiers Liberty Cornet Band, of Bellefonte, having met in their room on the above date for the transaction of business, unanimously passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That we tender our sincere thanks to the citizens of Bellefonte for their patronage at our Ball, from which we realized clear of all expenses $53.22.

GEO. SKINNER, Prest.
WM. MILLS, Sect.

ON Saturday about one P. M. a desperate young man by the name of Joe Clark, living near Bowerstown, Ohio, shot his sister, a young woman, with a rifle because she threw some snow at him. The ball entered her right thigh about five inches below the hip joint, injuring the bone slightly, and then passed nearly through the fleshy part of her right thigh. The wound is dangerous, but will not prove fatal. Clark was arrested.

DON'T fail to go and see, and hear, Fred Douglass, March 5th.

"HOW TO GO WEST."—Forty years ago, Illinois was as far West as most people wished to go, and journeys were made in the legendary "Prairie Schooner," but in these days of Progress and Improvement, the word West has come to mean Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, California and the Territories, and the Traveler reaches almost any point therein by a splendid Line of Railroad.

This Line of Railroad is the Burlington Route, which starts from Chicago over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., from Indianapolis over the Indianapolis, Bloomington & Wester Short Line, and from Logansport, over the Toledo, Peoria & Warsaw R. R., and running through BURLINGTON, reaches Omaha, Lincoln, Nebraska City, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth and Kansas City, connecting with the Union Pacific, Kansas, Pacific and other Railroads running from those cities.

Always go "By way of Burlington," and you will be sure to be right.

The Burlington Route has admirably answered the question, "How to go West?" by the publication of a truthful and interesting document, filled with facts in regard to Time, Connections, Accommodations, rates of Fare and other interesting items, and illustrated by a large map, truthfully showing the whole West, which they distribute free of charge. Copies, and additional information, can be obtained by addressing, General Passenger Agent, B. & M. R. R., Burlington, Iowa. 4-3-3m.

HON. FRED A. DOUGLASS, the greatest orator of the age, will lecture at Reynold's Hall, March 5th.

To the Citizens of Centre County and Elsewhere.

Your attention is particularly requested to the following certificate referring to those old established remedies, "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS', and "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC," from that well known citizen,

IRA C. MITCHELL, ESQ.:

"BELLEFONTE, PA., Oct. 27, 187

Sir:—I have just had the pleasure of meeting your Agent, the first representative of "Hoofland's German Bitters" and "Hoofland's German Tonic," it has ever been my good fortune to meet. For many years I have been purchasing and using them to the great comfort of myself, family and friends, having commenced their use on the recommendations of the Supreme Court Judges of this State. It affords me pleasure to have the opportunity to voluntarily recommend the same to all of my friends and acquaintances who may be suffering from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Billiousness or affections of the Liver, of any kind.

Very Respectfe lly,
IRA C. MITHELL."

These medicines are and have been well known to the community for the last twenty-five years, as genuine, reliable and deserving remedies for the diseases mentioned in the above certificate. Those afflicted should not fail to use them. Sold by all Druggists. C. M. EVANS, Proprietor, 631, Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 3-50-1y

FRED DOUGLASS Lectures, March 5th, for benefit of Undine Fire Company, of Bellefonte.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A CARD.—We take this method of saying that there is no truth in the reports that have been circulated, "that we intend quitting the coal business as soon as our present supply is sold out." On the contrary we have on hands now and intend to keep on hand a well selected stock of the best Anthracite coal in the market.

FOR SALE.—The splendid mill property known as "Oak Hall," situate in Harris township, this county is now offered for sale. For full particulars as to price and terms inquire at the office of the Bellefonte REPUBLICAN. 43-tf

A CHICAGO PHYSICIAN.

Dr. Joseph S. Lane, of 351 State St., Chicago writes: "I was called in to see a case of Inflamation of the Kidneys that had been treated by one of of our most eminent phsicians. I saw from the symptoms that if your MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS was what it was represented to be, it would be the best thing I could prescribe. I did so, and with the most gratifying results. The patient had been confined to her room for some time, but after a few days use of the Bitters, she was able to be about and is now doing her own housework. I think very highly of your preparation and intend to use it constantly in my practice." 6-1m
